Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, Jan. 26.—Lieut. Lloyd R. Fredendall, 2d Infantry, has been designated by orders from the Hawaiian Department to take charge of all matters connected with the participation of the army bands in the 1916 Mid-Pacific Carnival. He has been directed to confer with the Cavalry officers and to submit detailed recommendations to department headquarters.

According to an Eastern paper recently received Gen. E. A. Garlington, inspector-general of the army, makes a recommendation in his annual report that has just been received here that will make him "strong" with all officers in the service. He recommends that all annual test rides should be abandoned. He says that they fail to accomplish any good purpose whatever. The annual test ride, during which the officers cover 90 miles on horseback in three days, sleeping under canvas for the same number of nights, was started by Roosevelt when he was President, and has caused a lot of officers to be put on the retired list.

The general says that the shortage of army officers for line duty because of so many being on detached service has caused a serious menace to the efficiency of the service. He speaks well for the general equipment, discipline and training of the army.

The following transfers of enlisted men have recently been made: Pvt. Allen, 68th Co., C. A. C., to Field Company E, Signal Corps; Pvt. Frank F. Beckman, Field Company E, Signal Corps, to 68th Co., C. A. C., and has been ordered to Fort Kamehameha for duty with that organization. Pvt. Allen will report at Fort Shafter for duty.

Orders have been received relieving Maj. Ernest B. Gose from duty in the Hawaiian Department, effective March 1st, when he will proceed by the first available transport to San Francisco, thence to Chicago, Ill., for assignment for duty as assistant to the inspector of the Central Department. Maj. Gose was formerly in the 25th Infantry and has been inspector general of the Hawaiian Department for the past six months.

Orders were issued on January 18 by the War Department ordering the 22d Infantry from Douglas, Ariz., to its proper station. This regiment is scattered between three posts in New York state—Fort Jay, Fort Porter and Fort Niagara. The 22d has been on the border line longer than any other infantry regiment, having been on patrol duty for more than four years. Its commanding officer is Col. Robert H. Noble.

According to an Eastern paper recently received from the mainland Lieut. Ira Longenecker, 22d Infantry, has been detailed as professor of military science and tactics at Michigan Agricultural College. Lieut. Longenecker is well known here as he was an officer in the 2d Infantry for 10 years and only left the regiment in September, when he completed his four-year tour of foreign service in Oahu.

Capt. Edward Carpenter, Coast Artillery Corps, who was formerly stationed in Hawaii but was ordered to the mainland last February to command the guard at the exposition in San Francisco, has been ordered to Fort Winfield Scott for his examination for promotion to the grade of major.

Pvt. George W. T. Justice, Company M, 2d Infantry, has been transferred to Company I, 3d Battalion of Engineers, and has been ordered to that organization for duty.

Pvt. 1st Class Claud L. Boscher, Hospital Corps, has been transferred to Company I, 3d Battalion of Engineers.

Informal bids will be opened in the office of the superintendent of public works at noon next Saturday for furnishing and installing bowling alleys in the National Guard armory in Honolulu. At noon next Tuesday bids will be opened for putting in the foundations for the alleys.
